An open par 5 that's reachable in 2. Positioning your 2nd shot in the fairway should leave a simple shot to a green that slopes from back to front. Definitely an opportunity for a good start to your round.

■ 387 □ 366 ■ 324

A downhill par 4 with a strategically placed fairway bunker. Shots over and to the right of the green could end up in a hazard. A short hole that plays tough.

■ 169 □ 143 ■ 111

Our signature hole is an uphill par 3. Avoiding the creek and bunkers on the left will make this hole much easier. Usually plays one more club than the given yardage.

■ 377 □ 346 ■ 323

A straightforward, uphill par 4. Accuracy is more important than power with trees on your left and right. 2nd shot plays slightly longer than the yardage into this receptive, uphill green.

■ 376 □ 370 ■ 335

A downhill par 4 with trees and O.B. on the left. Fairway dog-legs left at the 150 yard marker. Accuracy on your downhill approach shot is key to scoring on this hole.

■ 411 □ 393 ■ 292

A long, uphill par 4. A left of center tee shot is ideal position to reach this small green in two. O.B. guards the entire left side of this hole.

■ 308 □ 279 ■ 272

A short, downhill par 4. Driver isn't necessary, but if you're not in the fairway you're likely under a tree. 2nd shot plays slightly shorter than the yardage into this undulating green.

■ 322 □ 297 ■ 244

A straight and narrow par 4. A 175 yard tee shot will get you inside of the 150 yard marker. Next is an uphill shot to a green guarded with bunkers in front and a hazard behind.

■ 193 □ 155 ■ 144

This par 3 was nominated as one of the toughest holes in the area. Avoiding the bunkers and hazards is crucial. A tough green that slopes severely from left to right. Par is an excellent score on this hole.
